ABOUT ANNE

Anne is a Chartered Psychologist with over twenty five years experience in human development, strategic planning and assessment in the public and private sectors.

WORK AT SEVEN

Anne works primarily in the not for profit and public sectors, providing developmental support to organisations, groups and individuals through facilitated workshops and one to one mentoring. She applies reflective practice, evaluation and assessment as an organisational learning tool to enable clarity of purpose and prioritization of energy investments. Her work with clients supports the development of responsiveness and effectiveness, through reflection, evaluation, mentoring and training.

She has conducted a range of research and evaluation assignments at both national and local levels. She has supported organisations to compose their strategic plans.

LIFE BEFORE SEVEN

Anne worked as an Occupational Psychologist with Ford of Europe and an evaluator for the European Commission prior to commencing her own Private Practice in 1996.

APPROACH TO POSITIVE CHANGE

Her focus is on inspiring human and organisational development and cultivating health and wellbeing through positive change.

MORE ABOUT ANNE

Anne has also designed, tutored and assessed adult education programmes in work psychology, organisational development and evaluation techniques, for the National University of Ireland Maynooth since 1996. In addition, Anne supports students through workshops and one to one mentoring.

Anne has four children and enjoys parenting and balancing in life. She lives by the sea and has a special love for beach running and sea swimming. She is keenly interested in energy therapies, is a qualified Yoga instructor and Reiki Master.
