ABOUT BRÍD

Bríd is a registered member of the Psychological Society of Ireland currently working towards Chartership. Bríd holds an MSc. in Work and Organisational Psychology from the University of Limerick and a B.A. in Psychology from Waterford Institute of Technology and is an accredited and experienced practitioner in the use of a variety of psychometric tools for selection, development and succession management. In addition, Bríd has project managed and supported the design of capability development programmes in the areas of Leadership Development, Emotional Intelligence, Change Management and Diversity & Inclusion.

WORK AT SEVEN

In addition to supporting the design and delivery of client programmes, a core focus of Bríd's work at SEVEN is in ensuring we are bringing the latest thinking and research developments to our clients. With the pace of change significantly impacting how our clients do business, SEVEN is committed to providing innovative and fresh perspectives to ensure the organisations and leaders we work with are future fit.

LIFE BEFORE SEVEN

Before joining SEVEN, Bríd spent almost 4 years working as a consulting Business Psychologist in Australia primarily in the Talent Assessment and Development space, working with a range of global organisations.

APPROACH TO POSITIVE CHANGE

Having worked across a variety of industries and geographies, Bríd appreciates the specific complexities and nuances each organisational context poses. Bríd approaches positive change by trying to get to the core of each client's need to offer a solution that is fully tailored to their unique needs. This bespoke approach was what attracted Bríd to the SEVEN team, aligning closely to SEVEN's tailored philosophy for achieving impact.

MORE ABOUT BRÍD

Outside of work Bríd enjoys keeping active, trying new restaurants (recommendations always welcome!) and travelling.
