ABOUT KEVIN

Kevin is a Business Psychologist and a Chartered Psychologist with the Psychological Society of Ireland.

Kevin embodies a partnership approach with clients and is passionate about enabling them to do what is right for their people, teams, and organisation in the long-term. He is an accredited and experienced practitioner in the use of a variety of psychometric tools for selection and development.

WORK AT SEVEN

Kevin is an integral member of the SEVEN team, having joined SEVEN in 2014. He designs and delivers interventions that are aligned to clients' broader strategic objectives, such as Diversity Audits, Workshops and Coaching Interventions. He is passionate about the power of human connection and leverages this in his work with individuals and teams.

Kevin leads research and innovation at SEVEN and he enables the dissemination and application of research in the delivery of our services and solutions to clients.

LIFE BEFORE SEVEN

Previously, Kevin worked with a large global organisation, specialising in the recruitment of high potential graduates and skilled IT and finance professionals.

He completed a BA Honours Degree in Psychology at University College Dublin. He completed an MSc in Work Psychology and Business at Aston Business School, Birmingham. He also holds a BPS Certificate of Competence in Occupational Testing (Levels A and B).

In 2019, Kevin took a career break to travel the globe and live in Australia. In 2021, he returned to SEVEN as a Business Psychologist after gaining experience as a Leadership Development Consultant and Learning & Development Specialist.

APPROACH TO POSITIVE CHANGE

Kevin's approach to positive change is evidence based and research-led in pursuit of innovation. Through his analytical skills and creative mind-set, he examines our modus operandi at SEVEN and explores how we can improve and evolve.

Kevin undertakes continual professional development, and he has completed a Diploma in Executive and Business Coaching and a Higher Diploma in Data Analytics at the National College of Ireland. He is a qualified ergonomics assessor and is QQI 'Train the Trainer' certified.

MORE ABOUT KEVIN

Kevin has had the opportunity to speak at several conferences on the topic of early career development.

In his free time, Kevin enjoys staying physically active and travelling to experience new cultures.
